

an annual governmentwide paperwork reduction goal of 5 percent.

It reauthorizes the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs [OIRA], within the Office of Management and Budget [OMB], which implements the act and requires each Federal agency to thoroughly review proposed paperwork requirements to make sure they are truly needed and have a practical utility. It also enhances public participation in reviewing paperwork requirements.

The bill clarifies that the act applies to all Government-sponsored paperwork, eliminating any confusion over the coverage of so-called third party burdens—those imposed by one private party on another due to a Federal regulation—caused by the U.S. Supreme Court's 1989 decision in Dole versus United Steelworkers of America. This decision created a loophole for agencies to avoid public comment and OMB review. Florida Gov. Lawton Chiles, who authorized the Paperwork Reduction Act when he was in the Senate, filed on amicus brief with the Supreme Court arguing that no such exemption for third party paperwork burdens where intended when the act was created. Unfortunately, the Court held that the plain meaning of the statute could not support such a finding.

Finally, I am pleased that the Governmental Affairs Committee accepted an amendment I offered in committee to make changes to the information technology provisions of the bill and allow the opportunity for information technology reform later this Congress. This is an important issue that warrants separate legislative consideration. In closing, I want to commend Senators ROTH, GLENN, and NUNN for their work in this area. The bill enjoys broad bipartisan support and I hope my colleagues will move expeditiously to vote on final passage.

RECESS UNTIL 2:15 P.M.

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate now stand in recess until 2:15.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 12:23 p.m., recessed until 2:15 p.m.; whereupon, the Senate reassembled when called to order by the Presiding Officer (Mr. ABRAHAM).

PAPERWORK REDUCTION ACT OF 1995

The Senate continued with the consideration of the bill.
